BLU DOT

As friends in college, Maurice Blanks, Jon Christakos and Charlie Lazor shared a passion for art, architecture and design.

After school, they went looking for modern design to furnish their first homes, but quickly discovered the things they could afford they didn't like, and the things they liked they couldn't afford. They figured they weren't alone, and so, Blu Dot was born.

More than twenty years later Blu Dot continues to create useful, affordable and desirable products from their Minneapolis based studio.

Together Steelcase and Bolia are on a global journey to transform office landscapes into creative, inspiring places. Unfold the Steelcase x Bolia collection and explore the beautiful universe built on simplicity, muted colors and the inspiration of scenic and wild Scandinavia.
